Logo 3000 are Vocabulary lessons that are taught in several schools in Namwene District of Eastern Zambia. The lessons have been introduced to this part of Zambia by Simon and Marianne, Educational Professors from Holland.

The Vocabulary lessons impact positively on learners as can be observed in the confidence seen in their identification of objects, responses they give and the fluency they show in their vocabulary.

To the teachers the lessons are interesting to teach, easy to prepare and exciting to observe the impact the lessons make on the learners. The learners are able to pronounce the lessons well, able to identify objects they are able to make good responses and they can express themselves confidently in the vocabulary learned.

It's exciting to parents to see their children grasp a second language at a young age. It's exciting to being in School.

Educational Officials are impressed with the programme, its presentation is simple and interesting. The wish of Educational Officials is that the programme can spread to many other schools in the district.

Therefore support from all well wishers would be greatly appreciated for the programme to continue and spread to many other schools to enhance the educational system in our country.
